

New site. This means I can keep you up-to-date with what I'm doing and take you along the development of my work...

I have just one month until the exhibition at the Horsebridge in Whitstable.

I'm waiting for some inspiration before I start a piece. I'd like to go for something on a 30" x 20", if you have anything in mind you'd like to see me paint then drop me a line.
